NOTABLE HIGHLIGHTS: (double plays, etc.)

The Phillies and Nationals were finally able to meet up after being rained out on Opening Day. Even though the rain was constant throughout the game, both teams put together multiple runs in multiple innings. Even though there were a lot of runs scored, there were some admirable pitching performances on both sides. Jaxon Clark got the start for the Phillies and was able to keep the Nationals to 3 runs in his 3 innings of work. Harrison Giroux and Evan Rogoff led the offensive charge and were threats to the basepaths for the Nationals all game. Rogoff ripped a couple hard shots into the outfield for 2 doubles and 2 RBIs. Giroux smacked one to the deep outfield and blazed around the bases for an inside-the-park home run. Even though the Phillies plated 14 runs in the first 2 innings, the Nationals kept them to 4 runs for the rest of the game. While doing so, the Nationals staged their own offensive onslaught with 10 runs in the final 3 innings. That come-from-behind battle by the Nationals only fell short because Eli Hilsinger was able to pitch out of trouble in the 6th inning, and strikeout the Nationals last 2 batters to end the game. The Phillies even their record to 1-1 on the season and travel into Homer for their next game on Monday night (5/8). They will take on Homer's own little league Phillies.
